ARKANSANS KILLED BANK ROBBERS!

GRAND ARMY OF REPUBLIC IN DEFENSE OF LINCOLN

Session at Des Moines May Answer Charge at Richmond That President Abraham Lincoln Was the Cause of the War—Furore May Pass Away Is Predicted Today.

(By Associated Press.)

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 29.—Among the important business matters to come before the grand army of the Republic in annual encampment here is a consideration of the proposal to retaliate with resolutions against the statement of confederate veterans at Richmond, that President Abraham Lincoln had been responsible for the war between the states. The proposition has lost much of its appeal to the Northern fighters. Commander-in-Chief G. W. Pilche made known today he did not believe the confederate encampment resolutions to be actual sentiment of the Southern soldiers but the product of small minority and slipped into the records during interval when convention hall practically deserted and all were getting ready to leave the last encampment at Richmond.

The Bryan Rotary Club held its weekly luncheon Wednesday at the Green Parrot. The program was in charge of Group No. 1: C. E. Friley, M. E. Wallace, Jno. A. Moore and D. L. Wilson with Rotarian Friley as leader who made a talk on education, and the singing was peppy by Rotarian Jas. W. Madison Hall has been made assistant choir leader and Supt. Hall was very quiet at the Wednesday luncheon. The main chorus entitled: "Four Wandering Jews" was lustily sung for the benefit of Secretary S. E. Eberstadt who arose and bowed his acknowledgements.

The following new members were announced: R. W. (Bob) Horlock, Col. C. C. (Cousin Charley) Todd, and County Clerk A. S. (Angus) McSwain. These new members are classified as Ice Factory Manager, Professor Military Science at A. and M. College and County Clerk of Brazos county.

Next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, October 4, was designated as "Ladies Night" and every Rotarian is expected to be present with his wife or his best girl. There were four visitors present: Dr. C. Kurten Women Organize For Home Demonstration Work

The Womans Home Demonstration Club will give a meat canning demonstration on the Kurten school grounds the first Wednesday in October at 2 p. m. Mr. Charlie Kurkey will furnish a beef for the demonstration, and the general public is invited. This meeting has also been set for the time to discuss the proposed organization of a community betterment club. Some possible benefits to be derived from such an organization are community fairs and socials, and bigger, better undertakings than have heretofore been attempted. Showing the advantage of organized effort, Mr. Kasiske of this community has been active in forming a Kurten Dairy Association. At present, there are six members contributing thirty gallons of cream a week. The cream is tested here and delivered and shipped to Bryan twice a week. From Bryan the cream is shipped to Houston. Mr. Kasiske and the other members hope to enlarge their club, as well as their own dairies, and be able to furnish one hundred gallons per week. At our last woman's meeting, which was held at Mrs. Odems, a very interesting program on "The Business of the Household" was rendered. Deserving special mention was a paper on "Labor Saving Devices" composed and read by Mrs. D. J. McDonald. Other interesting numbers were contributed by Mrs. T. A. Tobias and Mrs. Hamp Buchanan. An unusual treat was furnished by Miss Dabney, a Sam Houston Normal teacher, who has just returned from Porto Rico. Miss Dabney's talk was a very entertaining account of the trip and her stay with the Porto Ricans. Those present at the meeting were: Mesdames Easters, Franze, Kurten, Henderson, Koppe, Lang, Buchanan, Tobias, Martin, Odom, McDonald, Gilpin, and Misses Maggie Easters, Alice Odom, Anders, Ozell McDonald, Rotan and Dabney and Mrs. Prinzel.

The commission will meet Tuesday night to select the class of paving and close the contract so that work can begin at once. The bonds were sold to Halsey, Stuart and Co. of Chicago to the amount of $32,000 at par with accrued interest. To this is added the assessments against the property owners which will pave about 40 blocks giving Bryan in addition to the 7 1-2 miles of paving about 2 1-2 miles making ten miles of paving which will make Bryan one of the best paved small towns in the United States.

EUREKA SPRINGS Ark., September 29.—Charles Price, the wounded bandit with four companions who was shot down following a daylight robbery of the First National bank here yesterday was alive today. He had previously been reported dead. Physicians say he has a slight chance of recovery. Two other wounded bandits are in the hospital here. No word has been received from the relatives of the two dead baddies, George Price and C. Y. Wilson of Cookton, Oklahoma. A check shows that the bandits attempted to take $74,000 in cash and securities. The bandits drove into town over the mountains in two cars, one a small car bearing an Oklahoma license and the other a large touring car. Going directly to the bank, all with the exception of Cowan, who was driving the small car, went into the bank. None was masked. They aimed pistols at Cashier Smith ordering that he hold up his hands. He complied, but at the same time placed his foot on a button which set off the bank's burglar alarms on the street in front of the bank, in the Bank of Eureka at the telephone exchange and in the Bas in Park Hotel. The fight then took place and the bandits were whipped by the citizens.

DETAILS OF THE TEXAS CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION RESOLUTION

(Houston Post Special)

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 22.—A resolution calling for the submission to the people of a proposition of calling a constitutional convention will be presented at the next legislature, which meets in January. The resolution will be brought before the house by Representatives Lee J. Rountree of Bryan and John E. Quaid of El Paso. This is not the first time the matter has come before the legislature and Representative Rountree has asked the state librarian to furnish him with copies of former resolutions. A thorough search of the laws of Texas reveals that only two other resolutions have been presented to the legislature, the first in 1875 and the other in 1919, was defeated in the November general election. At the recent State democratic convention a resolution calling for the injecting of a plank in the democratic platform favoring a convention for the State of Texas was adopted at San Antonio on August 6, 1922.

A joint resolution providing for a convention to frame a constitution for the State of Texas was approved on March 13, 1875. This resolution called for 90 delegates of the State and called them to meet in the city of Austin the first Monday in September, 1875. The resolution provided that these members be chosen and elected by the qualified electors of each senatorial district should elect three delegates.

Section 4 of this resolution reads as follows: An election shall be held on the first Monday in August, 1875, for the election of such delegates, such election shall be governed and controlled by the laws now in force in regard to general elections; and at said election each voter, in voting for delegates, shall vote "for convention" or "against convention," and the vote of each county, for and against convention, shall be certified to the secretary of State by the presiding justice of such county; and if upon the count of the vote of the people of the State, it be found that a majority have voted for a convention, it shall be the duty of the governor to issue his proclamation convening the delegates elected to the said convention in accordance with the provisions of this joint resolution; provided, that if it be found that a majority of the voters at said election have voted "against a convention," then said convention shall not be convened.

In 1919 senate concurrent resolution No. 11, entitled a senate concurrent resolution, providing for the submission to the people, the proposition of calling or not calling a convention to prepare and submit to the people a new constitution for the State of Texas, and providing if such convention is called by vote of the people entitled to vote, for the election of delegates, and other necessary elections, prescribing qualifications of delegates, submission of such new constitution to a vote and making appropriations for expenses of such convention and elections, was passed and approved March 24, 1919.

This resolution passed the senate on February 12, 1919, and passed the house of representatives with amendments on February 27, 1919, the senate concurred in the house amendments on March 15, 1919, by a vote of 21 yeas and 2 nays.

This latter resolution by the legislature was in many aspects a duplicate of the former resolution presented in 1875 with many additions presenting a broader conception, of the interpretation of the resolution as first introduced. At the same time it called for 142 delegates instead of 90. Under the new redistricting law passed by the last legislature there there will be 150 representatives in the house, and it is probable that resolution calling for the writing of a new constitution will call for a like number of delegates.

The latter resolution was presented to the people for a vote in 1919 at the general election and went down to defeat with several other joint resolutions submitted to the people at the same time.

The resolution which is to be presented to the next legislature will no doubt be submitted to the people as an independent item to be voted upon at a special election.

TWELVE DESTROYERS TO BE SENT AGAINST TURKEY

Secretary Denby at Washington Announced Fleet Would Go To Constantinople—Turks Are Cutting Off British Cavalry Posts For Open Warfare—Fleet Departure Not Yet Announced.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29.—Secretary Denby today announced the name of twelve destroyers ordered to proceed from Norfolk, Va., to Constantinople, Turkey. The departure has not yet been announced. The first phase of the Greek revolution ended with the abdication of King Constantine in favor of Crown Prince George. The revolution is so far bloodless and the insurgent troops are occupying the capital. A provisional revolutionary committee it is announced will assume power. It will punish the disturbers of order regardless of political party to which they belong. Turkish Nationalists have notified allied high commissioners they will not tolerate the fortification of certain points in the neutral zones. Turkish cavalry is advancing on Asmaï Tepe apparently with the object of isolating the British advance posts.

PIONEER CITIZEN OF BRYAN PASSED AWAY

In the passing of H. P. Stacy, whose death occurred at his home in this city, Sunday, September 24, at 12:30 p. m., Bryan loses one of its oldest and best known citizens. For the past four or five years, deceased has been an invalid, and underwent an operation on last Tuesday, from which he never rallied. H. P. Stacy was born in December 1844, in Tennessee, and came to Texas with his mother and his five brothers in 1854, settling first in Cass county. In 1856 the family moved to Milligan, Brazos county and in 1867, to Bryan, where deceased has lived continuously since that date. He was never married. Of the family, only one brother, William Stacy of Navasota is now living, and he, though 87 years of age and very feeble was with his brother, H. P. Stacy, when death came, and attended the funeral this afternoon. One nephew, John Walker and family made their home with deceased in this city, and cared for him lovingly and tenderly during his last illness. Deceased was a Confederate soldier and served loyally with the boys in grey during the four years of the civil war. During his active years he was a contractor and builder and many of the substantial buildings in Bryan, both in the business and residence section stand as testimonials of his skill and ability as a builder. His last contract, before ill health and old age made it impossible for him to attend to his work was the beautiful country home of Mrs. Johnnie Koppe at Kurten.

The funeral was conducted from his late home on West 23rd St., by Dr. Jno. A. Held, pastor of First Baptist church, this afternoon at 3 o'clock, interment following in the city cemetery.

Plan To Hold Boll Weevil Meeting In Dallas Saturday

(Special to the Bryan Eagle)

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 27.—All agricultural organizations of Texas will be represented at the meeting which has been called for Saturday, September 30 in this city by the Texas Chamber of Commerce to consider ways of securing unified methods of fighting the cotton boll weevil. Answers received to date from the Agricultural and Mechanical College, the Texas Cotton Seed Crushers Association, the Texas Industrial Congress and other farm organizations indicate a wide spread interest is being shown in the forthcoming meeting and many Texas sections will be represented. The State Department of Agriculture has also informed the Texas Chamber of Commerce of its intention to cooperate. Texas has suffered an annual average loss of approximately $100,000,000 due to the ravages of this cotton pest, according to careful estimates gathered by the Texas Chamber of Commerce from specialists who have made years of effort toward controlling the weevil. The entire South is suffering many indirect as well as direct losses as a result of the boll weevil. Twenty years ago it was believed that the South had a natural monopoly upon the cotton growing industry. This was because the South far out produced, acre for acre, any other section of the world. Other sections of the cotton growing world have always been infested with many varieties of cotton pests, while the virgin fields of the South were free from such drawbacks. The gradual introduction of the boll worm, boll weevil, leaf worm, root rot and other cotton diseases, however, has robbed the South of one of its greatest natural advantages over other regions and Mesopotamia and other regions threaten to rival the United States as cotton producers.

Ignorance and inefficiency is the distinct curse of the present day. It is high time to get busy.

The main reason that they selected George E. Feday, a young man to run against the regular democratic nominee is because at the old, pointed, broken-down defeated political has-beens were in such standing in Texas that they could not run. George ought to know these facts and become wise.

Mrs. J. T. Sneed, of Georgetown, Mrs. W. C. Alexander of Calvert, H. M. Sneed and daughters of Calvert, and Mayor L. J. Dimmitt of Georgetown, were here Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Rountree. They went to A. and M. College to visit H. M. Sneed, Jr., of Calvert, who is a freshman this year.

That Bryan girls are recognized as among the leaders in the state for ability, scholarship and ambition for the higher things in education was again emphasized in the Sunday issue of the Houston Post of September 24th, when Miss Jean Edge's picture appeared as one of a page of "Texas girls prominent in College circles". Miss Edge was last year an honor student at Hollins College, Virginia. She did special study work at the A. and M. College of Texas during the summer term, and is now a student at Brenau College, Atlanta, Georgia.

This organization stands for the Christian religion, white supremacy, separation of church and state, free press, free speech, upholding of the Constitution and the laws of the land, sanctity of the home, and the purity of womanhood and manhood. "God give us men; a time like this demands, Men whom the lust of office does not kill, Men whom the spoils of office can not buy, Men who possess opinions and a will, Men who have honor, men who will not lie." We will stand for our blood and it is not pledged in vain. May the God of Nations awaken our manhood that America may be made a greater America. Yours truly, BRYAN KLAN NO. 48, Realm of Texas. Vision's Value

Do you appreciate the importance of good eye sight? If your sight is not perfect you could make every effort to improve it. Glasses may be necessary but this is a question you cannot decide for yourself. Eyestrain is often unsuspected as such by the sufferer as the sight appears to be perfect.

Our system of examination is thorough. If your eyes trouble you in any way we shall be pleased to advise you whether yours is a case for glasses or not.

A. & M. Records Were Broken

(Special to The Eagle).
COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Sept. 22.—With the great auditorium of the A. and M. College packed to the doors with the largest student body that has ever enrolled at the College the formal opening exercises proved to be a scene of animation and fine spirit. President W. B. Bizzell inspired great enthusiasm when he announced that this year's session has opened with an attendance one hundred per cent greater than the opening enrollment of 1914 and that there were almost 300 students more in attendance today than at the opening of last year. Great applause greeted the president's declaration from the students, College officials and Bryan people present. The announcement created a feeling that made all receive most heartily the remarks of Colonel R. T. Milner, former president of the College on the possibilities of training to young men, the glorious reminiscences of Major L. L. McInnis of Bryan, former chairman of the College faculty, the eloquent predictions of Representative Lee J. Rountree of Bryan on the future greatness of the institution and the remarks of Colonel C. C. Todd and Judge W. C. Davis of Bryan in keeping with his place on the program varied his expressions on the merits of the College with a variety of wit and humor that allowed the spirit of the meeting to continue to the last.

A FORMER PRESIDENT.
In introducing Colonel Milner, who served as president in the early days from 1908 to 1913, President Bizzell said, "I realize that the success and growth of this institution are the products not only of those who are serving the institution now, but of those who in past years have contributed to its progress. I have, therefore, invited two former presidents, Colonel R. T. Milner and Dr. H. H. Harrington, and Major L. L. McInnis, a former chairman of the faculty (1877 to 1883) to be present today and say a word of encouragement to you. The only other living president of the college is Dr. David F. Houston, of New York City, who I regret to say, is too far away to return for this occasion. But I am glad to present some of the men who have served the institution and to acknowledge my indebtedness to them for the contribution they have made to the work and life of the institution. President Bizzell introduced Representative Rountree, the man who was the hope of higher education in Texas and expressed his great pleasure that he would be the representative of this institution in the Texas legislature next year."

DORMITORIES OVERCROWDED.
The dormitories are overcrowded with the great student body at the College and it has been found necessary to provide other housing accommodations, President Bizzell declared. The two hostels remodelled during the summer as dormitories are not sufficient to take care of the overflow crowd.

To take care of the situation at once it has been decided to secure a number of the army cantonment tents and establish a regular tent colony in the space directly in front of the Y. M. C. A. for the accommodation of about 250 men. These tents are expected to arrive tomorrow afternoon and be put up for occupation within a few hours. Thus the A. and M. campus will once again assume the war time aspect. This procedure is in line with the repeated declaration of President Bizzell at times when it seemed the dormitories would be unable to take care of the overflow.

Applied for admission, to the effect that he would not turn a man down. In a statement issued yesterday he said: "I regret beyond words to express that dormitory accommodations are not adequate to meet the needs of this great student body but decline to turn a single boy away from the College who is really ambitious for a college education if it is in my power to prevent it. To the extent of our ability and to the capacity of our facilities I propose to take care of this student body and to place the means for a technical education within the reach of every ambitious boy who aspires to better qualify himself as a bread-winner and to acquire the knowledge necessary for good citizenship."

MILNER ASKS FOR SPIRIT

A true college spirit was the greatest hope of Colonel Milner for the young men. "I want you boys to get it deep down into your hearts and soul a college spirit that means loyalty to your school, loyalty to the laws of the institution and to everything that will advance the interest of the school. That is what college spirit should mean to you, and I believe it will. You should have a devotion to it that will be only secondary in enthusiasm to that for your parents and when you go out after the completion of your course here, that spirit should expand to include the state and nation as well as A. & M." He would have the men study more of the fundamental principles of government, and to study other men for the strengthening of their moral courage.

EARLY HISTORY CITED

Major McInnis forced the closest attention of his hearers when he took from the pages of Texas and United States history facts on the establishment of A. & M. College, which connected it with the most important events of all times in democracy, and definitely showed it to be intimately related to the advancement that has been made in industrial, agricultural and mechanical science. The two facts that the College was founded in the year when the one hundredth anniversary of the declaration of independence was being celebrated and that it was in operation on the day of the great celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the adoption of the constitution should place a halo of patriotism about the College and attach a sentiment to it not enjoyed by any other institution, Major McInnis stated.

VISION OF THE FUTURE

Mr. Rountree impressed his vision of the importance of higher education upon the hundreds of men in the great hall by mentioning his experience in hearing Former Secretary of the Navy Daniels on the occasion of an address at Columbia University during the World War days, attribute his great ability to serve the people to visions obtained in his freshman days at college. He emphasized his loyalty to the cause of education by declaring his willingness to contribute to the institutions of learning in Texas all that was needed to make them first class among those of the nation. "Three million dollars is but a drop in the bucket as an appropriation for this institution when its connection with the perpetuity of our civilization is considered," he said. "Above all and beyond all, to be an American citizen, equipped and ready for service and duty, is the greatest honor men can wish on this earth and Texas and the nation had great honors in store for the young men today," he said.

Colonel C. C. Todd, professor of military science and tactics, addressed the students briefly on the ideals in his work for the opening year. He referred to himself as one of the older graduates of the school and said he sincerely felt in the position to serve as an older brother to the men enrolled today. To the corps in general he asked that the development of the quality of leadership be uppermost in their minds during the coming days in school. He reflected on the force that they might exert among their fellowmen by devoting themselves to the principles of right and developing themselves to lead the men around them. He made a special address to the seniors. He declared that next to the faculty, they had the highest responsibility in the school and urged them to accept their responsibilities like men and assist the men with them as best they could.

Classwork was begun this morning. Four short periods were spent in the rooms for the assignment of lessons before the exercises in Guion hall, beginning at 10 o'clock. In the afternoon regular schedules were followed.

We Want to Meet Old Friends and Make New Ones

BRYAN BUSINESS METHODS—This is the day of service and we frequently hear it declared to be the biggest attribute in the business world: We are likewise truthfully told that "He Who Serves Best Profits Most" and in Bryan the business firms vie with each other, in giving to the purchaser such a service. According to the dictionary, service is: "Any act performed for the benefit of another." With this thought in mind the BUSINESS MEN OF BRYAN have made it easy and comfortable, even enjoyable to do business in BRYAN, and whether you are just looking or purchasing you will find the BRYAN SPIRIT, always ready willing and anxious to serve you every assistance as we believe that no big business can be built up except through service, and we believe that no purpose to meet the demands of the public, and no greater prestige can be had, than in rendering the trade such a service. If we have made a success we feel that you have co-operated, just so we hope that the service we have given has been to your benefit. Business is but an interchange not alone of money and merchandise, but in ideas and service to each other. Real success never comes easy, first of all there must be merit in the idea on which every business firm is founded; progress has been achieved only through continual struggle and hard and patient work. It has called for the ingenuity, and resource of the highest order, the courage that accepted no defeat, the endurance that wear down all signs of failure, the confidence that overcome many obstacles; such has been the history of the BRYAN BUSINESS MEN who by their consistency, simplicity and straight forwardness, make no claim that they cannot prove—no promise they do not fulfill—they knock no competitor, seek no unfair advantage, and thus have built up a feeling of confidence, that we make the assertion that the people who trade in Bryan, are met with exceptional advantages that are found in but few places, and the BRYAN BUSINESS MEN are afforded the real satisfaction and gratification can come only with the realization of the full function of opportunity, of obstacles over come by grim determination, stalwart integrity, painstaking devotion to business, for seeing business methods and above all a straightforward policy, which is needless to say will continue to characterize the BRYAN BUSINESS METHODS.

Birds-eye view of Bryan, made by Fred L. Cavitt from an airplane at an altitude of 2,000 feet.

The attitude of BRYAN MERCHANTS are to give real service and value in merchandise; that they may hold the friends which they have made in the past and make new friends for the future. They strive to make every customer a pleased customer, who will want to return to BRYAN and do their trading. They have striven hard to uphold the quality of their merchandise; they have a reputation to maintain on this point, for they have ever prided themselves on keeping in stock dependable merchandise, and up to date merchandise at the lowest prices possible; this fundamental principle has made BRYAN the great trading center it is. You will find stocks wonderfully complete now, and each item was bought with the one idea of giving you the greatest possible value for your money; stocks have been individually selected for their originality and appropriateness for any and all occasions; and while stocks are at their best and selections are easily made; we extend you a cordial invitation to TRADE IN BRYAN.

THE FUTURE OF ANY CITY DEPENDS UPON ITS ENVIRONMENTS AND DEVELOPMENT OF ITS NATURAL RESOURCES

—THE BUSINESS MEN OF BRYAN are firm believers in the words of the Old Alcalde, GOVERNOR O. M. ROBERTS "CIVILIZATION BEGINS AND ENDS WITH THE PLOW"—BRYAN'S entire trade territory resources are almost agricultural, and the BUSINESS MEN OF BRYAN, are at all times lending their best efforts, and hearty support for the cultivation and marketing of farm products—BRYAN is known as THE BEST AND LARGEST CITY IN THIS ENTIRE TRADE TERRITORY, and on account of its splendid location and environments, it is the NATURAL TRADING POINT AND MARKETING HEADQUARTERS for this entire section of country—as a market point BRYAN offers GREATER INDUCEMENTS than any place in this section of the state. BRYAN has a population of 6,307 right in the city limits. BRYAN is the home of the GREAT AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL COLLEGE, STATE EXPERIMENT STATION, ALLEN ACADEMY, VILLA MARIA ACADEMY and these institutions gives us an addition of from 3,000 to 5,000 people within a radius of five miles, which added to Bryan's population gives it practically from 10,000 to 12,000 people and this great population MUST EAT AND THEY ALL TRADE IN BRYAN AND THEY BUY YOUR FARM PRODUCTS—BRYAN therefore offers you the very best market every day for your turkeys, chickens, eggs, butter, and all other farm products that cannot be excelled anywhere else—as above explained BRYAN is a school town and the hundred of students, faculty and employees of the different institutions added to BRYAN's population makes a demand for your products unlimited, and it stands the greater demand for anything, the higher the prices paid for same and the BUSINESS FIRMS buy your products and you don't have to peddle from house to house.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason.

The Dallas Fair Association announce, through its "Foreword," that the bankers of Vernon, Wilbarger county, will contribute, according to their custom for several years, funds sufficient to send seven club boys and girls to the Educational Encampment during the Dallas fair, and that the Wilbarger County Purebred Livestock Association and the County Fair Association will each contribute a trip to the wonderful event, making, in all, nine club members whose expenses will be paid by the big hearted people of their home county. For two years in succession one club boy in Brazos county has won a trip to the Dallas fair, but owing to poor crops and the financial circumstances of the family the little fellow was unable to take advantage of the wonderful opportunity afforded him. Public spirited citizens, with means, and organization, desiring to lend a helpful and lasting service, some times overlook a wonderful opportunity for a real investment yielding big dividends in the way of grateful hearts and more efficient citizenship. There will be no collection, but a free will offering is always in order and attests the spirit of service.

District Agent A. W. Buchanan, of the Extension Service upon returning from a trip to East Texas, gives the following data which will, doubtless, be of interest to our farmers engaged in the sweet potato industry:

"Henry Smith, a farmer living near San Augustine, Texas, made on red, sandy, slightly loam soil over 400 bushels of sweet potatoes to the acre, and began harvesting them by September 1. He marketed 353 bushels of No. 1 potatoes per acre, besides leaving more than 50 bushels of culls, etc. The potatoes marketed sold for 65 cents net cash, f. o. b. shipping point, thus realizing $229.45 per acre with culls, etc., left over for home use and hog feed. The total average was 350 bushels. Mr. Smith said he made this large yield by treating his seed before bedding, using one pound of corrosive sublimate in eight gallons of water, having land in perfect state of preparation. He planted on a bed about as high as he could well throw up with a one-horse plow. He made the beds on a furrow containing 400 pounds of fertilized half cotton seed meal and half acid phosphate, and gave potatoes good, intelligent cultivation. Mr. Smith had a neighbor with the same kind of soil, the same kind of seed, about the same sort of preparation and cultivation, but did not treat his seed nor use fertilizer with the result that the neighbor made less than 200 bushels per acre."

Cecil Brinkley, club member at Tahor, says he means to get in the club work next year with "both feet," this being his first year in club work and hence his first opportunity to learn of its benefits and pleasures.

T. J. Lloyd, a prominent farmer of "hogdoches" county has the following good advice in the Progressive Farmer, under the heading "Planting the Crops for Fattening Pigs." "Two years ago I had 160 head of hogs and on April 1 I put 80 of the best in a feed pen to fatten. In May, one month later, I had a 15-acre field of oats and I put the other 80 head on the oats and fed them on chops and rice bran mixed. The first pen was fed twice a day on the same kind of feed, and in 40 days the ones that ran on the green oats were fatter. I figure that they cost me less than half as much as the first pen, as they got fat on half the grain feed and 10 half the time. To have plenty of green feed for hogs, I would suggest that you plant barley or wheat as early in the fall as possible, if you have good land. If not, plant rye or oats, as barley or wheat will not make much grazing on poor land. About May 15 turn this grazing land over and it is in fine shape to plant a crop of some kind to finish up the hogs for fall. June corn and cow peas, or June corn and velvet beans, sweet potatoes or a row of corn and a row of peanuts make fine pork."

"The Farmer's Wife." September, gives an interesting account of the Buena Vista Community Club at Harrison County, Kentucky. One of the features showing the progressiveness of the community is the outline of program for the entire year's work. The program indicates that each month the club will consider and study such things as will be timely and of mutual interest to all concerned. Here is a good thought for some of our Brazos county community organizations desiring to do some real constructive work: "out a plan, without a purpose, with out a goal, a community organization can never get very far. It is like a teacher who does not plan his work before recitation. He may 'mill around,' but he will never get anywhere so far as developing the lesson, or making its application to life or the problems of life."

Steeple Hollow Parent-Teachers association with Mrs. I. M. Cook, president, Mrs. J. W. Mathis, vice president, Miss Birdie Risinger secretary, will function as the community organization, doing whatever will be for the betterment of the school and the upbuilding of all community interests. At their meeting Saturday night committees were appointed to enlist membership, prepare programs and do whatever will be necessary to make the meetings held from time to time interesting and instructive. A. W. Buchanan, I. M. Cook and others made interesting talks on the principles underlying the work of the parent-teacher association. A great future awaits the united efforts of the people of Steeple Hollow community, and we bespeak for them rapid progress in this noble undertaking—cooperating for the common good of all.

On next Saturday, September 30 four club boys and as many, or more club girls will be chosen by competition as delegates to the Educational Encampment at Dallas Fair, and it is hoped that just as many as possible will enter the contest. Bring your corn, peanuts, cotton, and poultry and win a scholarship to this wonderful two days' school. Club members are given consideration, not accorded any other people at the fair. It will be a great trip for your boy or girl, or your neighbor's boy or girl. Encourage them to make the trip.

Roger Q. Astin, farmer-stockman, and president of the Brazos County Purebred Livestock Association attended the Shorthorn auction sale at Waco last week and purchased some fine Shorthorn cattle which he will place in his herd at Dawn Haven farms, Brazos county. Mr. Astin is a booster for better livestock, and he believes in keeping nothing but the best.

Col. J. E. Bogg-Scott, live stock commissioner of Texas announces that during the month of August, 7,013,372 head of cattle were dipped. Since it is customary to dip twice a month these figures would indicate that approximately three and one-half million cattle went through the vat during the month. Did you dip yours?

Millican community club rendered an interesting program Monday night. Those attending from Bryan were Miss Laura B. Roten, H. R. Kinney, S. E. Eberstadt and C. L. Beason.

The boys and girls club at Millican will have its regular meeting Friday, October 6, the members serving lunch together in Rotary style.

Don't forget the club exhibit on next Saturday. Bring your corn, poultry peanuts, cotton, etc. and win a trip to Dallas fair.

Corn crop was reduced by drought during August 142,000 bushels. Sow cover and grazing crops now.

As long as the numerous movie actors' divorce cases occupy the front pages Hollywood will be regarded as a place inhabited by degenerates and moral perverts.

NewsPaper headline says: "British Labor Leaders Will Oppose Another World War." That's the step Nations at war are brutal and all stability is destroyed. The efforts of the World's War will not pass away for twenty years more. Too much war and too little work is the curse of all nations and all people. The European nations will perish if they continue to fight. They ought to perish if they continue their degeneracy and profligacy. Go to work.

Bryan Has Received 13,000 Bales Cotton

The peak of the cotton season in this section has passed and with dry weather for ten days longer the cotton crop will be gathered with the exception of some cotton that is too green to open and will come on later with dry weather. Bryan has received a total of 12,670 bales up to Saturday night, weighed as follows: Bryan Press Company, 3,500 bales; Farmers Union Warehouse, 4,685 bales; Parker Warehouse, 3,935; Eden Gin, square bales, 509; Eden Gin, round bales, 142. The Bryan buyers have been paying the very highest prices for cotton which will bring many bales of cotton here a good distance away. Indications are that about 12,500 bales of cotton will be ginned in Brazos county but there will be several thousand more bales than that marketed in Bryan. Highest prices paid for the fleecy staple will bring in the cotton.

The Fair Is One Year Old This Month

One year ago this month we opened for business in Bryan and, though this past year has been considered rather hard, our success has been phenomenal and we are very much gratified for the large patronage given us.

We attribute this very flattering business to the values we give and to the excellent service rendered by all our sales people. Our store is the home of small things, all displayed on open tables, marked in plain figures and we give as much attention to the 5c sales as most stores give to the $5.00 ones, which our customers enjoy as it makes their buying much easier. Our buying connection helps as we buy in large quantities direct from the factories and pass our bargains on to our customers at a small profit, which we can well afford as we sell only for cash.

We will not try here to price even half of the many hundred items that we handle but select a few at random.
